

Wheeling GOP Hears Candidates Views

BY RICHARD CRANE

Eugene Schlickman, Wheeling Township Republican Committee member, will meet tomorrow with his endorsement committee to work out the final procedures and timetable for endorsement of candidates in the state elections.

Schlickman has set a goal of completing the endorsements by the end of the week.

Wheeling Township Republicans have at their objective endorsing one candidate for each of the five state offices: governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general and state auditor.

Friday evening the Wheeling Township Republican Organization held the second of two candidates nights. Two candidates for secretary of state and two candidates for attorney general appeared before the endorsement committee recommendation, but will not be heard by the committee. They will be limited under the procedure adopted in 1967, by only one rule. In order for there to be an endorsement, a candidate must receive two-thirds of the precinct captains vote. Because of this limitation, it is possible that there will be no endorsement for some offices.

The two remaining major steps to endorsement by Wheeling Township, one of the largest Illinois voting units, have been announced by Schlickman. The executive committee of the township's local GOP organization will study the qualifications of candidates. Particular attention will be given to their presentation at the candidates nights in Mount Prospect and Rolling Meadows. The township's endorsement committee then will make a recommendation to Wheeling Township precinct captains.

The precinct captains will endorse the executive committee recommendation, but will not be bound by them. The captains will make the final decision on endorsement. Instrument Cause Of Near Crash?

By Charles Moraites

The near-disaster that terrified 29 airline passengers for three hours and knocked out the electric power of 25,000 homes here, 31 miles away, was caused by a malfunctioning instrument of the aircraft, it was learned.

The glide slope transmitter, which guides an airplane during the use of the auto pilot, went out of service, according to a reliable source.

The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) and the Airlines Pilots Association (ALPA) confirmed the information. A spokesman for the NTSB, however, said the extent of the malfunctioning instrument role in the incident had not yet been determined.

The airplane, a Chicago-bound Trans World Air Lines Convair 440, struck 13,000 volt Commonwealth-Edison power lines in Elk Grove village on its final landing attempt at O'Hare International Airport at 9:15 p.m.

It landed at Indianapolis after being diverted from other airport three times.

The NTSB spokesman said his agency was finding it difficult to gather information on the investigation of the incident, but he blamed it on "human error."

HE SAID HE did not think there was any effort by the airline, the airport or the pilot to withhold information.

Carl Eick, an engineering representative for ALPA and the glide slope "was not functioning properly," at the time of the attempted landing.

He also said there possibly was a lag in the altimeter of the airplane. The altimeter shows the craft's height from an level.

Both spokesmen said the control tower of the airport has identified the malfunctioning instrument.

The glide slope is a radio beam sent from the runway at an angle, intersecting two other perpendicular beams.

Conflicting accounts he been reported on the beating of a Prospect Heights teenager at The Culler Saturday.

Information on the evening of Dave Harris, 15, of 25 S. Alton, who was treated at the Northwestern Community Hospital for a cut on the right side of his nose and a black eye, was put together by The Day, but Arlington Heights Police records did not report the incident.

Harris' cut nose required four stitches.

Mr. George Harris said he was "slapping with a girl" in The Culler.

"Next thing he knew he was on the floor," Mrs. Harris said.

She said, according to what her son told her, "three or four fellows jumped him. He was punched, pushed on the floor and kicked in the face when he tried to defend himself," Mrs. Harris said.

The mother said that the attack was seen by two or three boys who tried to defend him from the invaders.

HE SAID HE did not see any action on his part. Police broke up the fight, Mrs. Harris said.

Knights Tromp Arlington, Pirates To Keep MSL Tie

BY TOM WALSH

Until 5:42 of the second quarter, it was a regular basketball game. After that, it was a Prospect basketball game and a 75-55 Knights win.

Last Friday, the traditional Arlington-Prospect cross-town rivalry was repeated. Prospect was led for number one in the Mid-Suburban League standings. Arlington was number seven. Nobody expected much of a battle, least of all the Knights.

IT ONLY TOOK Prospect six seconds to take a 2-0 lead on a basket by Jim Guntz. A foul on Arlington's Jim Baumgartner gave Guntz a chance to boost the Knights lead to three points. Arlington's Dave McCaffrey countered with a basket to set the score at 3-2, and Prospect's George Timon, raising his eyebrows in surprise, set the mark at a simple 5-2.

McCaffrey shunned the formalities and popped in two more field goals, putting the Cardinals ahead, 6-5, and the battle ensued.

Hanny slapped McCaffrey's back with a basket a minute later, putting the Knights up by one. Timon then put Prospect ahead by three, but McCaffrey literally slapped his wrist, and Timon was awarded a trip to the free throw line. Timon's free throw set Prospect ahead, 8-6, but Arlington's Mark Liddell ignored his opponent's snarl and knotted the score, 8-8.

Prospect kept playing mean and pumped in five quick baskets to take a 13-8 lead. But like a discolored child, Arlington matched the Knight effort, once again coming back to knot the score.

MIKE ANDERSON and John Green kicked the score up to 17-13 to close the quarter. Timon then shot a seventh-point basket to make a first-place team.

Liddell opened the second quarter by driving the Cards within two. Guntz set the Cards straight with a field goal, but Arlington's Chris Butenbach joined his indignant teammates and popped in another field goal. Timon put his foot down and the Knights ahead, 21-17.

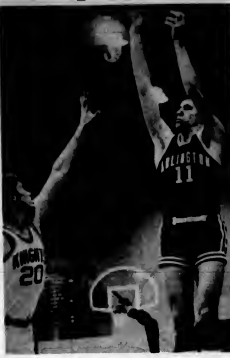

Butenbach again scored, however and when Anderson fouled him in the process, he brought his Cardinals within a point with a free throw.

That was the last straw. At 5:42 of the quarter, the Knights initiated a 10-point spree while holding the upper Cards scoreless. Green broke the string at 2:00 of the quarter with a foul that sent Liddell to the free throw line, where he pumped in both ends of his opportunity.

An Arlington foul sent Guntz to the line where he connected on a single attempt, setting the score at 32-22. A free throw by Butenbach and a basket by Baumgartner brought Arlington within seven, but Prospect initiated Cards' comeback and a field goal.

Arlington's Keith Callahan closed the half with a field goal, setting the score at 36-27.

ARLINGTON had the audacity to outscore the Knights, 15-12, in the third quarter. Liddell picked up eight of Arlington's total. Prospect countered by severely punishing the Cards in the final frame, outdishing their op-

Guntz emerged as the high scorer, connecting on eight of 19 floor attempts and three of six free throws for his game-high, 19-point total. Timon was number-two with an 18-point effort, while Arlington's Liddell capped the third-place honors with 17 points.	Anderson	1	0	2
Prospect's Bench Leonard finished with 15 points, 10 of the total coming on five late-quarter field goals. Leonard also topped both teams in rebounding, picking off a total of 11.	Green	3	0	1

Prospect Sinks Palatine

BY LINDA GAMMILL

A Prospect press forced the Pirates into submission. The Knights stole the ball on a turnover, both in the backcourt as well as from right under the Pirates' basket.

A foul three seconds into the game gave Leonard his first scoring opportunity. He missed, but Timon got the rebound and put it in.

SEVEN MINUTES LATER, the Knights, acting none too sure of themselves, picked the ball for the first time, and Jim Guntz made a thieving workhorse with another basket.

The Pirates managed to keep the ball this time and George Guntz scored from under the basket. That was to be the Pirates' only basket for the next three and one-half minutes as the Knights rolled in from inside and out, tied the ball, forced turnovers, took shots and generally drove the force of nature out of the game.

WHEN THE BUZZER sounded at the half, Prospect was sporting a 45-28 lead. Leonard had 10 rebounds and eight points. Timon scored 10 points. Schell had six points to lead the Pirates.

The Knights started in again in the third period with two quick baskets by John Green and Dave Somers. They outpointed the Pirates 24-9. It could have been worse if they had been more accurate. They missed 12 shots out of 19.

The fourth quarter belonged to Brian Schell. He made six baskets, hitting from just about everywhere on the court, and added both of the free throws awarded him. The Pirates scored 24 points in the last period against Prospect's reserve squad, and Schell had 14 of them.

Prospect didn't so badly either. They put another 16 on the scoreboard. Green getting into it.

THE GAME ENDED much as it began, with the Knights on top 80-58, but not before Schell had his say. The little fellow scored 10 points in the last two and one-half minutes to take some of the sting from the Pirates' 12th straight loss.

14 Area Wrestlers Move to Sectionals Of State Tournament

At least one wrestler from every area school except St. Victor will advance into the sectional round of the state tournament next weekend.

Five wrestlers from Arlington, four from Prospect, three from Forest View, and one each from Elk Grove and Wheeling survived the cut-down by finishing either first or second in regional competition Friday and Saturday.

ARLINGTON took second to Maine East in team points at the Elk Grove regional, amassing 69 points to Maine East's 84. Prospect had 63, Forest View 60, Main South 54, Elk Grove 54, St. Victor 51, and Luther North 49.

Wheeling was sixth at the Deerfield regional with 25 points. Deerfield won with 40, Mundwinton 31, Lake Forest 23, Glenbrook North 26, Carmel 16, and Libertyville 16.

(Ten points are awarded for individual first place, seven for second, four for third and two for fourth.) Every win in the opening and quarter-final rounds.

Prospect had three champions, and Arlington and Forest View two each at Elk Grove in the narrowing down of what began at regional, 14,700 points of high school wrestler—including, at a liberal estimate, six ounces of fat.

TERRY HOLSHOUSE is 127 pounds, Gary Cobe at 154, and Ron Richardson at 165 were the three winners from Mid-Suburban League champion Prospect to take first.

Holshouse worked his way to the semi-finals with pins over Bob Rickman of Luther North and Mike Piron of Forest View but he barely got off his opponent's back in the semi-final, winning a 3-2 overtime match which he had scored a take-down.

In the final match, Holshouse edged Maine South's Rich Neeson 7-3 in a tussle, down to the last second. Holshouse took a 4-2 into the last period but had to counter an escape and reward by Neeson in the second and third minutes and reversed a fateful turnover try in the last 30 seconds.

COBE won by a fall from Rich Vincent of Luther North in the first round, matched Mark Swenson of Forest View 6-0 in the quarter-final and nipped Maine's Jim Morrison 10-0 in the semi.

He beat Tom Schlausius of Maine East in the final, 3-2, on a last period escape.

Richardson, after striding past Luther North's Tom Gibson, 14-0, in the first round, earned his way to the finals with a 5-2 win over Forest View's Mike Cane.

IN THE FINALS,

Richardson ran into an old rival, Arlington's Dennis Menzies, who was wrestling with bulldog determination and tent the match. Menzies, however, by permitting Richardson an escape and coming back with a take-down with five seconds left in regulation time.

Richardson managed to escape in the second minute of overtime, then fought off Menzies' desperation take-down effort.

WHITFIELD pulled a take-down on Maine East's Mike Thomas in the first period of the final, then came back with a last-period escape.

Jim Whitfield at 112 pounds and Don Stump at 145 won firsts for Arlington.

Arlington's 112-pounder, Whitfield, beat Maine's Mike Thomas, 10-0, in the final. Prospect's Steve Jurg of Elk Grove, 6-0, and Don Stump of Arlington, 5-0, won firsts for Prospect.

FOREST VIEW won two sturdy anchors—150-pounder Stephen Dreierich and heavyweight Bob Hilsop—on the outcome.

Dreierich defeated Prospect's Marjorie Lofland in the third time this season, 8-2, in the final after beating Steve Jurg of Elk Grove, 6-0, and Don Stump of Arlington, 5-0.

Savage won in the finals by the slimmest of margins. He got the end of a referee's decision after a 2-2 overtime deadlock because he had gone for more take-downs than he had escapes.

He got the end of a referee's decision after a 2-2 overtime deadlock because he had gone for more take-downs than he had escapes.

JERRY ANCONA of Elk Grove, Jay McDonnell, Paul and Don Schlausius of Forest View, and Lofland earned their way to the final section with second place finishes.

At Deerfield, only one Whetling wrestler, 145-pound Don Stump, made the final, and he lost to Paul Landau of Mundwinton.

Stump advanced to next week's Evanston Township section. He lost to Paul Landau, 14-0, in the final.

Qualifier records at Elk Grove district:

150 pounds: 1. Vermer, ME; beat Anderson, LN, 5-0; beat Klein, PV, 4-0; beat Ancona, EG, on referee's decision after 2-2.

ARLINGTON 165-pounder Dennis Menzies pulled a take-down on Prospect's Ron Richardson in the first period of the final, then came back with a last-period escape.

Richardson managed to escape in the second minute of overtime, then fought off Menzies' desperation take-down effort.

WHITFIELD pulled a take-down on Maine East's Mike Thomas in the first period of the final, then came back with a last-period escape.

Jim Whitfield at 112 pounds and Don Stump at 145 won firsts for Arlington.

Arlington's 112-pounder, Whitfield, beat Maine's Mike Thomas, 10-0, in the final. Prospect's Steve Jurg of Elk Grove, 6-0, and Don Stump of Arlington, 5-0, won firsts for Prospect.

FOREST VIEW won two sturdy anchors—150-pounder Stephen Dreierich and heavyweight Bob Hilsop—on the outcome.

Poised, smooth, and leaving no room for doubt, Arlington's varsity gymnasts won their showdown with Prospect Saturday, 7-5, 5-4.

If there are any better dual meet high school teams than the Cards and Knights in this part of Illinois, they're hiding their light under a trampoline. Prospect came into Saturday's meet 5-0 in the Mid-Suburban League and 12-0 overall, while Arlington was 5-0 in the conference and 13-0 overall.

BUT THE CARDS, who had to settle for second to the Knights in two multi-team meet earlier in the season, had too much to lose. Prospect Saturday. Only five of Arlington's 18 routines scored less than 7.0 averages from judges Tom Gardner and Dick Noland, and one of those received a 6.9.

Arlington all-around star Wayne Crockett also won an individual duel with Prospect's Bruce Bohl, scoring 16.0 points for the Cards, 15.5 for the Knights in four events.

Bohl has a better record than any other high school gymnast in the state who could have lost last Saturday—Dennis Mazur of Maine East was enjoying the competition as a spectator.

CHOCKEY took first on the rings with 7.95, won second on the side horse with 7.4 and tied Bohl for second on the parallel bars with 7.5. Bohl also had an outright second on the horizontal bar and a third on the side horse, and a sixth on the rings.

Arlington had a 12-10 edge after the trampoline competition, where the Knights were the better performer, sophomores Jay Braun, out because of a toe cast to practice Tuesday.

Prospect's Terry Haines took the trampoline first with an 8.1, with Nick Penff and John Hall going for Prospect a 2.5 finish with a 7.25 and 7.5.

KEN BARB, who always makes it seem as if the side horse belongs to him, then it does for his compatriots. He went to a 2-22 in less than an 8.75 first. Crockett's 7.4 edged Noland's 7.3, and Dave Mattson added the three fourth-place points to Prospect's count.

Card horizontal bar man Jim Brown, swift and snappy, scored an 8.0 for Prospect's 7.45, but Arlington won the event, 15-10.

Wayne Crockett won the second place in the event on the parallel bars Saturday in Arlington's 7-5, 5-4 win over Mid-Suburban League arch-rival Prospect. The Cards went into the parallel bar competition ahead, 35-31, and came thru the event. Gary Wilkey's 7.5 won him third ahead of a 7.4 for Prospect's Roy Hartman. Prospect's Roy Hartman picked up five more points on the parallel bars behind Jack Finch's 7.55. Bohl and Crockett's second place in it 7.5 left fourth for the Knights' John Edwards, with a 6.9.

The Cards ended the surprise with a clutch still ring performance led by Prospect's 7.95. Rich Carlson, only committed to the Card season, led the minute by coach Tom Wubbush, made a 7.5 on the horizontal bar, 7.75 on the side horse, and Ken Lincoln's 7.0 earned a fourth.

BILL VAN SKY had third for Prospect with a 7.45, but Arlington won the event, 15-10.

Ken Baker's 3.1 on the side horse and John Valentino's 4.3 on the rings picked up Prospect's only first. ARLINGTON 77½ PROSPECT 71½ Trampoline 1. Haines, A-8.1; 2. Penff, P-7.25; 3. Four members of the Robert Crown family were hurt in a head-on collision with a truck on S. Arlington Heights Rd. Mrs. Crown was killed in critical condition after the crash.

Dist. 214 Seeking Policy Punishment, Suspension

Methods of student discipline were debated by members of the board of education of High School Dist. 214 in an attempt to establish a district policy on corporal punishment, suspension and expulsion.

After a lengthy discussion, the matter was tabled until the next board meeting. It was suggested that a date be set for the next meeting for a committee discussion on the policies before final board action is taken.

The proposals submitted by the administration on corporal punishment and suspension were discussed and will be rewritten.

Mrs. Harms Named to Board

Mayor John G. Woods last night appointed the woman member of the board of education of the Arlington Heights Park Commission.

In it is the second "time" for Mrs. William Harms Jr. of 930 N. Mitchell who also has served as the first woman member of the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Replacing Mrs. Harms on the board of appeals will be Walter J. Damm Jr. of 710 S. Cleveland.

Woods also appointed another new member to the Commission, John F. Pitts, counsel for the Universal Oil Products. Pitts lives at 519 S. Vall.

Mrs. Harms and Pitts are replacing Charles Collins and Harold Carlson, who resigned recently.

Dr. Sparks Appointed To District 59 Board

Dr. Allen Sparks, assistant director of research for Universal Oil Products, was appointed Monday to the Dist. 59 board of education as Richard Stumm's replacement.

Sparks will serve only until April, he will not run for the school board spring.

Sparks, a member of Dist. 59's School-Community Council, has been president of Einstein Schools PTA for two years. His daughter, Allen, is a second-grader at the school.

Last week, he was named as a director of the new Elk Grove Township Educational Foundation.

Dist. 214 Seeking Policy Punishment, Suspension

The board of education does not have a written policy on student conduct and management and Dr. Edward Gilbert, superintendent, is urging the board to adopt one.

"WHAT THE citizens on the outside know is not always what happens between the administration and the parents," said Dr. Lawrence Jensen, principal of Forest View High School.

"There may be an agreement that is in the best interest of the student for him to complete a correspondence course or to withdraw from school. The parents may interpret this as suspension or expulsion and may say that the student was 'kicked out' of school."

"This is why we need something," said Dr. Gilbert. "We don't have a written district policy. We have only practices," he said.

BOARD MEMBER Mrs. Leah Cummins said she did not think suspending a student was a punishment, if the student was being suspended for not attending school.

"I am concerned because the suspension is used as an illegal way for getting rid of the students who are problems. We are making them 'face out,'" she said.

"I am not aware that Forest View has taken that attitude," replied Jensen.

"It is more than agree with you that some have been encouraged to try something else. We have to take that into account when there are not other reasons. I have had experience on a job or two or three years in the service will straighten a person out," he said.

Mrs. Cummins said she lives at 600 Spruce Ave., Des Plaines.

Stumm, the board member replaced by Sparks, was a member of the Philadelphia-based The Trans Company. Stumm himself was replaced by Dr. 59 board as a replacement for Douglas S. Burns of Des Plaines, who moved to the Virginia.

2 Brothers In 'Intensive Care'

Two of three brothers injured in an auto accident in Arlington Heights yesterday, remain in "critical" condition at Northwest Community Hospital.

Earl F. McCarter Jr., 18, and his brother, Gary, 15, are in the intensive care units at the hospital.

A third son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. McCarter Sr., 401 N. Pine, Arlington Heights, 16, is listed in "serious" condition.

The youth students at St. Viator High School, were injured when the car in which they were riding collided with another car at Hawthorne and Douglas in Arlington Heights.

"We HAVE citizens in the country who commit crimes," said Mrs. Cummins, "and they are not deported for it. These students are citizens of Dist. 214 and we should not deport them," she said.

In the proposed policy statements, the action which could result in suspension included attendance and behavior problems.

The home of Charles Kelly, 350 S. Newbury, was burglarized, had police Monday.

Mother of 4 in Critical Condition After Crash

By Charles Moravcsik

A 26-year-old Arlington Heights mother of four young children was in critical condition this morning at the Northwest Community Hospital after the car in which she was riding collided head-on with a truck at 1310 S. Arlington Heights Rd.

The husband, who was driving the car, and two of their children, also were injured. A second car struck them from behind immediately after the collision, according to police.

Mrs. Doris Crowe, of 1169 S. Walnut, was suffering from severe head injuries and chest injuries in the intensive care unit of the hospital.

HER HUSBAND, Robert, 26, suffered head injuries and a broken right arm. He was listed in fair condition.

Ten-month-old Debbie was admitted for a fractured leg and her condition was listed fair. Susan, 36 years old, was treated at the hospital but was released yesterday. The family's two other children are aged 4 and 5.

Mrs. Crowe was holding Debbie in her arms at the time of collision, according to police, and apparently protected the child with her body.

Robert Fontana, 18, 2707 Robbings Rd., Palatine, the driver of the truck, was struck from behind by another car.

escaped injury, police said.

Fontana's truck, according to police, was northbound on the inside lane of S. Arlington Heights Rd. when he attempted to pass on the right a car which had stopped to make a left turn into White Oak St.

The truck skidded on the wet pavement and, instead of going to the right, veered to the left, crossed the dividing line of the four-lane road and struck the Crown car which was traveling south on the inner lane.

THE IMPACT, according to police, pushed the Crown car partially to the outer southbound lane where it was hit from behind by Kramer's car.

William J. Fontana, Robert's father, said last night that his son was "very much shaken by the accident."

He said his son also was given first aid at the hospital, where he was released.

According to police, Robert Fontana (F) was driving northbound on Arlington Heights Rd. when he saw a stopped car, waiting to make a left turn and attempted to pass it on the right. The car skidded on the wet pavement and, instead of going to the right, veered to the left, crossed the dividing line of the four-lane road and struck the Crown car (C). The impact pushed the Crown car into the path of Kramer's car (K). (Drawing by Dave Novak)

The truck skidded on the wet pavement and, instead of going to the right, veered to the left, crossed the dividing line of the four-lane road and struck the Crown car which was traveling south on the inner lane.

THE IMPACT, according to police, pushed the Crown car partially to the outer southbound lane where it was hit from behind by Kramer's car.

William J. Fontana, Robert's father, said last night that his son was "very much shaken by the accident."

He said his son also was given first aid at the hospital, where he was released.

Resigning School Head Seeks Doctorate Disaster Warning Service

BY TED LACY

Prospect Heights School District 21 Superintendent Louis Pannino, is resigning at the end of the year to work in the field of education.

Pannino, who has held the post for four years, informed the board of education last week that he will not renew his contract when it expires June 30.

He will try to get back into school system administration work, but with a district in a large city later, he said.

"I think most people today are being trained as specialists in single areas," Pannino said.

"But I'm just the opposite. I want to be a generalist, experienced in many areas."

A GENERALIST, Pannino explained, is to a school district what a chairman is to the board of directors in a corporation. "Someone has to direct the experts, but you have to have some knowledge of their field to do so," he said.

"This is the kind of role I see myself in, in the future. It takes me 15 years of my life to become a generalist in education, and I'd like to find a job that would allow me to function as one."

"I feel I've had a broad enough background that combined with a Ph.D. I could be experienced enough to handle the job."

Next he went overseas as a civilian employee of the Air Force to do administrative work in American schools. First he spent a year in Tripoli, Libya, acting as principal of a high school and an elementary school.

Then he met his wife-to-be, Ada, a teacher in the same system, who is originally from North Dakota. "I met her through the couple went to Ankara, Turkey, where Pannino again became a principal."

"The second of those two years I became superintendent; also, besides teaching."

After four years overseas the Panninos returned to a native soil, this time in Urbana, Ill., where Pannino became an elementary school principal.

During this time he completed work for his advanced certificate at the University of Illinois. Then he moved to Elmwood Park, where he and his wife will live with their two children—Nicholas, 7, and Liana, 5.

THE NEXT assignment took him to Germany, where he became superintendent of several American schools in Westphalia and Bitburg.

Arlington Heights Dist. 25 Public Schools are to be linked to the Illinois State Police 24-hour storm and disaster warning service as quickly as the special equipment can be installed in the elementary schools.

A radio, which remains on when there is power, will be installed in the principal's office at each school. The instrument will be silent except when it is activated by the Illinois State Police. The only indication that the radio is operating properly when it is silent will be a small signal light.

The Dist. 25 Board of Education, meeting in a special session Monday night, agreed to install the warning system in the elementary schools.

The board also decided to open the 13 public schools in the district to 150 K-5 school, except Dwyer School, which will remain Illinois. Police major airports such as O'Hare and Meigs Field will be included in the service.

The service has been used many times in the past for any other purpose, including severe weather broadcasts throughout the year. The system was first used in 1962 when severe storms moving in on an area.

"To the best of my knowledge, having heard this account many times, I have never seen any of the items that Sherman wrote to Harrell."

The bed is 6 feet long and 4 feet 6 inches wide. The hand carved headboard is 8 feet high. The matching scrubbed-pine dresser even has a carved pedestal and carved bedpost.

Another BED, built by Volz father is being restored and will be placed in one of the museum rooms. Volz said his father had a furniture store at the present "Hooper house" location at 17 E. Campbell.

In addition to the bedroom, another permanent display will be set up in the "parlor" of the house.

Mrs. Daniels and Harrell expect to have several rooms and displays which they can change periodically to keep up public interest in the museum.

Harrell said the museum would be ready to open to the public this year, but did not set a target date.

"We will open when we are ready to open," he said. "We could have allowed any incorporated area to finance their own police protection through township organization. That bill was voted by Gov. Otis Kernan."

Regner also plans to introduce another bill which was voted last year. The bill deals with program budgeting, seeking to eliminate duplication of services by various state agencies in order to save tax dollars.

A resident of Mount Pleasant for seven years, Regner has been active in Elkhorn police and fire departments and is now moving to 910 S. See Gwn. In 1964 he was elected township auditor. He resigned in 1966 to take his present post.

He is also a deputy commissioner in the Elkhorn Republican Organization. A graduate of De Paul University, he is in the insurance business.

He has one son, John, now a child, Deva, 8.

Be glamorous in rain or snow in this exquisite Court Royal double-breasted Anson-Nylon coat in a basket-weave pattern. Its mink collar, set in sleeves and belted back, adds to its feminine appearance.

Raincoats Become Fashionable

BY MARILYN HELFERS
Women's Editor

It seems as if Cinderella's fairy godmother has waved her magic wand and transformed the dreary old raincoat into the queen of fashion—as all-weather coat.

Today no woman's wardrobe is complete without an all-weather coat. It matters not if she is traveling to the four corners of the Earth or going shopping in town—there is a case for all occasions.

A WATER repellency has turned all kinds of fabrics from exquisite silks to wool jerseys into fabrics that weather rain and snow.

"Raincoat" is hardly an adequate description for a double-breasted blouse of imported French corduroy, or an evening tulle vestment from the Court Royal collection.

Equally handsome is the imported Clie with its Martingale back, the multi-colored brocade, the imported ribbed velvet, cavity twists, warp silk, brocade—the list is endless.

Designer Adele Green's spring-summer international coat collection for Lawrence of London also offers a wide choice. Green is the collection's predominate color, followed by mimosa, lavender and rosy red.

FOR DAYTIME there are crisp, aving, striped cottons with a starched look that spring showers won't wash away. There are upholstery ticking stripes in white with avocado or pink or gold.

Shapes include close-to-the-body lines, modified tents, A-lines, semifitted raglan styles and trench coats. Evening coats sparkle. Pastel brocades are shot with silver and one full-length style has a matching stole hood.

Yard-dyed silk taffets from Italy is shaped into a flowing A-line with a little standup collar in luscious shades of rosy pink, blue, green and gray.

The feminine look is definitely evident in spring all-weather coats, and what kind of coat would be more appropriate for Chicago's all-weather weather?

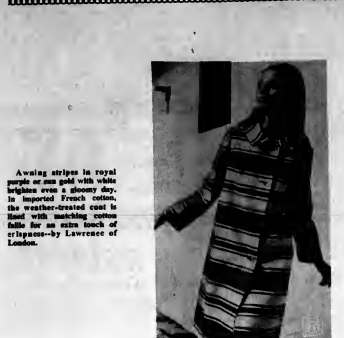

Gloves enhance an all-weather coat by Court Royal. Its Martingale back accentuates the coat's styling.

Special Award To B and PW

The Mount Prospect Business and Professional Women's Club is the recipient of a special award presented at the recent President's Council.

Mrs. Helen Macior, president, announced the award which was given for having the largest number of new members in the District 3 club.

The Mount Prospect chapter will also be represented at the Feb. 27 Maywood B and PW anniversary dinner. If any members wish to attend contact Mrs. Macior.

The executive board will hold its meeting at the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan on Thursday, March 21 at 8 p.m. Plans for the March 23 fashion show will be finalized according to chairman, Alice Platt.

Operalogue For Kappa Alumni

Mrs. W. Richard Impney will present an operalogue at the Arlington Heights Area Alumnae Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma on Wednesday, Feb. 21.

Mrs. Impney, past president of the Northeast Chapter of the Lyric Opera of Chicago and a La Toña by Pacific.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Muriel Peck, 413 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights at 8 p.m. Mrs. Bruce Dicker and Mrs. Robert Winter will serve as co-hostesses.

No Business Like Show Business

WANTED—actors and actresses on stage at 8 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 27 and 28 for plays at Grand High School, Army Trail and Lombard Hts. Auditions. If you can sing, dance, burlesque, walk, paint or sew, St. Albans Hospital Auxiliary needs you for their variety show.

LWW to Observe At NW Municipal Conference Meet

Representatives of the League of Women Voters from the northwest suburbs will be present Wednesday, Feb. 21 when members of the Northwest Municipal Conference consider setting up a committee of village zoning and planning administration.

This committee will deal with disputes arising between municipalities and the county.

Mrs. William Trevor, president of the Arlington Heights LWW, said that while a league "observer" is always present at the meetings of the NWMC, league members have particular interest in the upcoming meeting.

"WE HAVE just completed a two year study of the need for coordinated planning between local governments," she said, "and we have explored the various procedural and the structural changes which can be employed by local governing bodies to better deal with the complex issues of today's society." The Arlington Heights LWW has interviewed and sent surveys to many municipalities in the northwest area, including all members of the NWMC, to determine how many communities have a comprehensive plan; who sets the goals and policies for future development and what types of coordination in planning already exists.

Mrs. George Schroeder of Arlington Heights, planning committee chairman for the Cook County LWW, is now collecting and analyzing the opinion of county league members.

Mrs. Schroeder, who has compiled a pamphlet on local government which includes the various forms of collaboration between the governments from the northern Ordinance of 1783, attended meetings of the NWMC and the Arlington Heights board of trustees.

Mrs. Jerome Thandauer and Mrs. Craig Chamberlain will set one table representing the Garden Club of Mount Prospect.

Flower arrangements demonstrations are scheduled to take place periodically throughout the entire event and a special "Sun-Rise" fashion show will also be featured daily on work days at 7 p.m. in the basement.

Formal garden arrangements provided by 16 landscape artists, music, a mystery girl from WNWMC who will award a check for $92.70 to anyone who approaches her are also on the agenda.

School Study Committee Will Give Report to LWW

The school study committee of the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights will present its report to the membership at a general meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 21 in the north room of Pioneer Park.

The symposium will be conducted by school sub-committee chairman Mrs. Duane Anley, Wheeling; Mrs. William Marier and Mrs. Richard Scholt of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. E. W. Rechner, Prospect Heights.

Included in the report will be a breakdown of the school authority for the public districts in Wheeling and Elk Grove townships.

Members will learn how local school boards are elected, what their duties are and how schools are financed at the local, state and national levels.

Supplemental printed material will be given to members who will then discuss what direction the school committee might take in further study of the school districts in Wheeling and Elk Grove townships.

Other possible local and county program items will be discussed by members who will vote on their preference. Final decisions will be made at the April annual meeting.

Members of our Redeemer Lutheran Church, 304 W. Palestine Rd., Prospect Heights are looking forward to March 10 when the new addition to their church will have been completed and dedication services will be held.

The following persons comprising a Dedication Committee have been appointed to make arrangements for the special services and festivities: Mrs. Gerald Andrews, Cliff Bockopp, Henry Elliott, Mrs. Gene Fricke, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Linn, Mrs. James Stenberg and Mrs. Wayne Zimmerman. The $150,000 addition was begun June 25, 1947.

Proceeds of the event will go to the club of the school study committee.

Photographers which include the Rolling Meadows Library, local scholars, and Clearbrook Center for the Research.

Ticket information may be secured from Mrs. Edwin Godwin 255-7454.

"New York is a nice place to strike, but I wouldn't want to work there!"

Dialogue

"That was an interesting time they had in New York, with all that garbage piling up in the streets. And I see they haven't really settled it yet and are worried that the New York City Sanitation Department employees may go out on strike again."

"Yes, I heard about that. It must have been some sight to see."

"That was the observation many people made, so I hear the sanitation dept. employees, otherwise called garbage men, are planning their next strike during the summer vacation season. That way many more people can see the mountains of refuse in person."

"That wouldn't be the idea of a vacation. Besides, I thought strikes by public employees in New York were behind the times."

"They are. It's the same law that didn't prevent a transit employee strike a few days ago. The mayor asked for the National Guard the time the governor, who is a non-candidate for president, didn't want to send the Guard because they might be used in Vietnam, I hear."

"Well, I'm glad we're not faced with that problem here. At least the suburbs have private garbage collectors."

"That doesn't necessarily protect us from a strike. It could happen here. Of course we have wider streets and broader lawns where the garbage can pile up."

"Maybe I ought to prepare for the possibility of a garbage strike here. I think I'll get myself an incinerator."

"That may bring on a few problems. The first thing that would happen is that someone would be assigned to look you to find out what you're doing with your garbage. As soon as you canceled the picture service they'd know you were up to something."

"And then you revealed that you had an incinerator, you'd probably get a visit from the department that watches for pollution."

"And then you'd have to pay for incinerator inspection and a license and maintenance and all that."

"Oh, I won't do that. I'll just assume that I'll have to handle everything down the drain."

"So you'll still have problems. Someone will still come around to find out if you're doing with it. And if someone gets the same idea, the sewers will be overtaxed, requiring the sanitary district to raise your sewer tax and there you go again."

"I've never there must be some way to make certain we never have that problem here."

"Why don't we go back to the old days, where everyone was too poor to have garbage?"

Press Conference

By Catherine O'Donnell

Ed Keegan had his press conference yesterday morning and a very nice one it was indeed. He had the conference in the tiny outer room of the new MainPrint company at No. 10 W. Miner.

The MainPrint company is owned by a pretty redneck, Lillian Wyman, who has taken this location formerly occupied by the Countess of Argyll. Her first kind gesture was to underwrite the cost of 50,000 pamphlets for the Arlington Beautification Council.

The Council last year took out on Arbor Day, when it was all spring rolls round when they set all of the work done along Northwestern Hwy. Harold Bell and Ed eventually got something to do in the future. Ed, who is on the board of the ABC as well as being president of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, cautioned against an enthusiasm that might make it difficult for some to support the beautification program. "There are some businesses along the highway which have to expand," he said, "and the only way they have to do it is north and usually this edges into a residential area."

Mrs. Russ Hart is chairman of the Women's Club Committee for Community Improvement was called by Ed. "The original candle in the dark," Mrs. Hart has been a tireless worker in getting the project off the ground. "Our 'needing problem' she said, "is 'needing' money. We have a memorial tree program for $400 million can dedicate a tree to the memory of someone. It would be a wonderful idea if all of the clubs and organizations in the area had their own tree. In the spring the ones that are already planted will be beautiful when they begin to bloom."

The ABC which is headed by Gil Keegan would like every family in the village to donate a dollar — more if possible — but at least one dollar to help keep the city beautiful. Donations may be sent to ABC, Box 34, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60004.

STATUS

There are many questions hovering the students at Harper Junior College concerning their draft status now that the passage of the new selective service law is in effect.

A student must first of all be full-time. "This," said Don Stanbury, "means that a student must be carrying a work load of 12 hours. To be classified 2-A, a student must be pursuing a course leading to a baccalaureate degree. Students in the vocationally oriented programs are also draft eligible. They, however, are classified as 2-A if any student who is here at Harper and received a high school diploma. It means he has not requested a deferment. A student must carry a deferment."

Stanbury is Director of Selective Service Office. He said that an appeal by a student for a change of classification must be made within 30 days of the date the notice of classification is received to the student. "A letter from the registrar to the school, confirming his full-time student status is also required. As long as a student does not fail, he is not out of the picture."

Going Like 'Sixty'

We weren't aware of it, but the highway patrol gentlemen aren't the only ones who keep tabs on motorists' speeds. The Bureau of Public Roads evidently has been doing it for years.

I report that Americans are traveling faster than ever on the nation's open roads, mainly because there are more and more miles of four-lane freeways to go faster on.

According to study conducted by the Bureau and state highway departments, the average speed of all types of motor vehicles — passenger cars, trucks, and buses — was 53.7 miles per hour in 1966. This was nearly one mile an hour faster than the year before.

About 40 per cent of the vehicles were clocked at speeds of 60 mph or higher. The average speed of buses and cars was the same — 53.8 m.p.h. Average truck speed was 52.6 m.p.h., about 50 per cent faster than the average truck speed of 25 years ago — which will not surprise anyone who has tried to pass one lately.

SWEET NIGHT

Mrs. — no, no, wild horses will allow her name to be known, but I'd be surprised if she is one of the most efficient of administrators of our town. She is constantly running her co-terminous workers home after her energy. She has been heard to say that the dervish motion of her energy from an extra spoon of sugar now and then.

The other evening, she and her patient husband were on their way to a special dinner. She was on her way out of the door, mentally checking her bag to see if she had the glasses, the comb, the makeup renewal kit and so on. She remembered that her sugar bowl on the kitchen table and in the picture of it. She meant to get it away. She put it in her purse and didn't know she had put it until she got into the car some time. "I'll resign from something," she said. "I don't want to be picked that sugar bowl up."

Dist. 25 Teachers Approve $700-a-Year Hike

BY RICHARD CRABB
Arlington Heights teachers, Tuesday approved the $700 minimum salary increase agreement reached last week with the teacher committee of the Dist. 25 Board of Education.

The agreement, which covers approximately three-fourths of the teachers present at the Mount Prospect Park Dist. 25 Board meeting, the vote was 217 "yes" and 31 "no."

The agreement would raise the minimum salary to $6,000 a year, and goes to the Board of Education consideration. Approval is expected at a special board meeting March 10.

The agreement was negotiated by committees of the board and the Arlington Teachers Assn. In a series of meetings that started from December, to early February. Approximately 90 percent of the teachers in the 17 schools of the 25 are members of the association. James Monroe, Indiana Junior High School, a president of the association, and Chairman of its negotiating committee.

At the meeting of the teachers Tuesday, Monroe reviewed the highlights of the agreement.

At first the teacher committee presented the board with 10 proposals to be incorporated into teacher contract for the 1968-69 school year. The first item on the list was a $1,500 increase in the base salary, or minimum contract salary, from $3,500 to $5,000.

Monroe said the teacher committee had requested a base salary of $7,000 as being fair and in the interest of the district. However, Monroe said the board was unable to meet a "good" offer upon the part of the teachers.

The new base salary, Monroe said, is competitive with the 1968-69 district salary schedule by neighboring elementary schools.

districts.

TEACHERS WERE TOLD that Dist. 25 does not have enough revenue to pay the salary increase to present teachers and to hire new teachers needed for additional school rooms being built to meet the record enrollment in the fall.

Funds to make it possible to hire additional teachers dependent upon a referendum on the part of the district.

The agreement liberalizes the "absence for illness" policy and allows only members of the "immediate family" were covered.

At the meeting, the teachers in the home will qualify the teacher for absence for teacher and TV programmer. The teachers and the Arlington Heights School and a member of the executive committee of the association, explained the agreement reached by the teacher and board committees.

The base salary will be $6,000. Salaries of teacher with 12 to 15 years service will be increased substantially.

The agreement liberalizes the "absence for illness" policy and allows only members of the "immediate family" were covered.

At the meeting, the teachers in the home will qualify the teacher for absence for them.

IN THE PRESENT contract special assignments for teachers in the physical education area. The salary for the physical education teacher is $6,000.

In the new contract, the salary of a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree will be $6,000.

Two Robbers Hit Grocery Store, Escape with $500

BY MEL MILLER

A pair of armed robbers escaped with approximately $500 in cash late last night after robbing an Open Pantry grocery store in Mount Prospect and terrorizing four customers and a clerk.

According to police, the robbers entered the store, at 400 W. Central Rd. at about 11:00 p.m. One of the robbers picked a package of gum off a counter, and when he approached the check-out counter, he pulled a gun on the store's night manager, Billy R. Wine, 408 Algonquin Park, Rose Meadows, and said "This is a stickup—me all money."

The man's accomplice, armed with a switchblade knife, ordered three customers to a back room of the store where the first man emptied out the cash register. Then Wine was ordered to the back room where the robbers made as victims in face-down on the floor.

According to police, the two men took Wine's keys and left the store through a rear door. The robbers locked the door as they fled. Wine estimated that the thieves were in the store for about 20 minutes.

THE FIRST MOUNT Prospect policeman on the scene, Roland Luchala, said that he did not see any notes. He said the robbers were forced to hand over their wallets to the armed police officer. Luchala said the robbers were forced to hand over their wallets to the armed police officer. Luchala said the robbers were forced to hand over their wallets to the armed police officer.

robbery. According to the Police, police, the pair took about $500 from a clerk at the store and fled to a blue sports car.

The victim, Walter Bartley, 717 Drexler Dr. in Mount Prospect, Gary Mace of 414 N. Chicago at Arlington Heights, said the robbers were forced to hand over their wallets to the armed police officer.

While the robbers were in the back room with Wine and the three other customers, another customer entered the store. One of the robbers, who was armed and attempted to take the customer's wallet, was stopped by the other customer. The customer, George Zamboni of 114 S. Chicago in Mount Prospect, said the robbers were forced to hand over their wallets to the armed police officer.

sanitarian Richard Dawson joined and placed him directly under the manager's supervision.

THE FOLLOWED a series of stories in the Day discussing the independence of the public health department, lack of personnel and programs. The newspaper stories were precipitated by Dawson's resignation. Dawson said the village's sanitation department did not have enough personnel and did not educate the public on health matters.

Health Board Chairman John Doreville said some study of the health department and reorganization is needed.

For Brestler, chairman of the board of trustees police safety committee, later said that re-organization of the department was expected in the near future.

Brestler had said the police were awaiting proposals for re-organization by the manager.

Hanson said yesterday that he will re-evaluate the department, but declined to discuss details of his plan.

It has been learned, however, that Dawson and former assistant village manager Fred Snider resign for Hanson on the condition of the department.

One report charged that the health department failed to maintain a good working relationship with the local health department.

THE SECOND REPORT charged that there were shortcomings in the department's sanitary division composed of personnel. The department has one sanitarian.

directly to the village trustees. The assistant village manager would be a deputy director for the entire health department, a physician in chief.

The director would be placed over two division heads in the department, the supervising nurse and a physician in chief.

Part of Hanson's re-evaluation of the health department may be based in the village budget, which controls the amount of money to be allocated for each department.

Consideration of the health budget has begun, but Hanson said he has not yet decided when the health department would be re-organized.

Only 2 Skating Rinks Still Open in Area

All the skating rinks in the area have closed, they just went underground.

The combined areas of the Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, and River Trails Park Districts there are only two rinks left in service: the rinks in the town of Hickory Meadows, Arlington Heights, and the rink at McDonald's and Elm in Mount Prospect.

Many Mount Prospect residents have objected to the closing of the skating season in the Mount Prospect Park Dist. as early as Jan. 27, and it opened in December.

As explained by Super, of Parks Township, warm weather destroyed the new ice at all risks. Since several days of cold weather would be necessary to replace the ice, it was considered better to close down.

Copper said it probably would cost several hundred dollars to reestablish ice suitable for skating in the rinks.

Dialogue

"It looks like the Army has finally reached the situation in which things the Army may use when they are trying to collect $700.21 from a veteran of the Vietnam war because he lost his M-14 rifle in combat."

"I never thought they'd go that far. When did this happen?"

"The story was revealed last week by a Wisconsin Congressman, Henry C. Schaderberg, who said that he had been told by a Vietnam veteran who is being billed by the Army."

"It seems that one Ernest Wagner of Racine, Wis., who was honorably discharged after a year's service with the 25th Infantry Combat Regiment, had his M-14 rifle fall out of a helicopter on a combat mission."

"Now the Army has given him 30 days to pay $700.21 for the rifle or face legal action."

"Can you imagine what would happen if every branch of the armed services tried to collect in this way for things that become lost?"

"Yes, I can. In fact, Rep. Schaderberg has suggested that if the ex-soldier has to pay for the rifle, then Defense Sec. Robert S. McNamara should have to pay $250 million for the loss of the USS Pueblo to the Koreans."

"The Liberty is being decommissioned because of the attack on it by the hostile last year."

"Hey, I'd like to get a letter from the Air Force telling me I had to pay for a plane I lost."

ed out of because I let it run out of gas ever money inventory."

"Well, they just might do that. You could have gotten gas on credit and we would have paid for it after the war. I can imagine a whole lot of things the Navy would feel though. If he were to get a letter today saying:

"Dear ex-Private Bud: We have received verification that you were seriously lost your helmet, sound, men, his, two kilograms and 27 rounds of the ammunition. You owe the Navy $273.45. We will sell whether you will send a check for the amount or if we will deduct it from your disability pension."

"That would be pretty hard to take, I'm sure. Or what if the Navy decided to bill with George Hamilton

everyone who lost something overseas. Imagine this letter from the Navy:

"Dear deceased James H. Berry: Come to our attention that you were seriously lost and we have lost your body while you were serving with the 1st Infantry Division. Since this is obviously a result of your own incompetence and a violation of Navy directive 94-213-1-4467, Mark IV, Mark IV, you owe us $330 for the cost of your body. Please send a check for this amount as soon as you possibly can."

"Now how can the Navy do that? It's higher if I found out I traded our nation's flag for a submarine. I don't get a submarine full of bananas, one case of orange pulp wine and a parrot that could roar. In five languages, I'm going to have a lot of explaining to do."

"Do you think we could interest Howard Hughes in buying North Vietnam?"

The two candidates again held by the Wheeling Township Republican Organization for more than a century than even Comm. Eugene F. Schickman could have dreamed. They probably represent the beginning of a new institution in Illinois political campaigns.

The first event was held Nov. 2 at Old Orchard Country Club in Mount Prospect primarily for candidates seeking the office of governor and lieutenant governor. The capacity crowd of 250 persons attended.

THE SECOND night held last Friday evening, moved to a larger auditorium at the Holiday Inn in Rolling Meadows, was primarily for state GOP candidates for the offices of secretary of state and state treasurer.

These candidate nights for state office seekers represented political planning for township organizations in Illinois. Many candidates expressed amazement that such an event would be possible for a township organization.

All reported that it was the first event of its kind they had attended during the 1968 campaign.

THE SCHICKMAN administration of Wheeling Township GOP affairs appears to be the early stages of developing two new state wide, Republican importance. The 2d annual fall dinner-forum held at Arlington Park last October, at which Gerald Ford, GOP leader in the U. S. House of Representatives spoke, was attended by 1500.

RICHARD R. OGILVIE

Wheeling Township Endorsement important to candidates for governor.

There are two major reasons for these developments. One is the effectiveness of Schickman's administration. The other is that Wheeling Township represents such a large GOP vote potential that it can support these outstanding Republican events in northwest Cook County.

The candidate endorsement procedure, established shortly after the 1966 general election, gives present candidates the final voice. This feature gives the Wheeling Township endorsement the characteristics of a miniature primary.

THE WHEELING Township endorsement of GOP candidates may well take on some of the same effect in the Illinois race as the New Hampshire primary has on the national scene.

When the Wheeling Township endorsement is announced two weeks from now, word of the results will be flashed from Cairo to the Wisconsin line in a matter of hours.

Fortunes of the various candidates will be influenced by the results of the March 6 results of the New Hampshire primary will be known by the time the GOP candidates for governor, the candidacy of Richard B. Ogilvie of Cook County will be hurt if he should fail to get the Wheeling Township endorsement. Ogilvie is known to have well supported earlier in Wheeling Township. It is his hill campaign for Cook County Sheriff and Cook County Board President.

FAILURE to get endorsement would be considered by GOP leaders over the state in an indirect manner, but not as a setback at the hill in this campaign.

On the other hand, should any candidate other than Ogilvie, who endorsed in Wheeling Township, it would give his candidacy a real lift.

The power of the Wheeling Township GOP endorsement is revealed in the fact that every primary candidate seeking state office came to one of the other candidate nights.

HAVING WON such acceptance, the Wheeling Township Republican Organization is now in a position to make similar plans for its candidate night.

THE WHEELING state races in the 1970 primary, for a while it will be held just as New Hampshire's primary was held in March of every year when a general election is held in the state.

Obviously not every township organization could afford such a large-scale making personal appearances. However, several candidates have indicated that they would welcome an opportunity to attend up to 10 candidates nights before the June primary if they were to be spaced uniformly up and down the state.

SUCH A PATTERN could give every voter in the state an opportunity to meet their GOP candidates face to face by driving a distance of not more than 50 miles.

Since the candidates are coming to Wheeling Township whenever a candidate night is being held, there is created a remarkable opportunity for one of the Wheeling Township High Schools to meet the candidates.

And perhaps follow with a mock convention which would provide a dramatic opportunity for students to become acquainted with state office candidates.

BY 1970 Wheeling Township will have three high schools — Arlington, Prospect and Hawthorn.

positive, construction will begin this spring.

The proposed interchange is expected to cost about $2 million, it will be financed through the Tollway Commission's operating fund.

Donald R. Bonwell, executive director of the Illinois Tollway Commission, said the study results will be brought before the board immediately when they are complete.

The present study is being made by Wilbur Smith & Associates, a firm engaged by the tollway commission to make an independent study.

Two previous studies by the Illinois Tollway Commission have indicated that construction of the interchange is desirable and will be self-supporting.

A FINAL decision on building the interchange is expected early in April, said Bonwell. If the decision is

Busy Nights Ahead

By Catherine O'Donnell

There are some nights ahead for the group of our town. On Saturday, the Ladies' Auxiliary Club will hold their dinner at the Sheraton Hotel. The women are trying to give away a trip to Acapulco, a lucky guess. Mary Fane, who is the chairman for the popular dance-dance, is not sure if the Acapulco trip is one for two or if it is a couple of boys who helped her. One for two or if it is a couple of boys who helped her. One for two or if it is a couple of boys who helped her.

On the same night the ladies' Auxiliary Club will hold their dinner at the Sheraton Hotel. The women are trying to give away a trip to Acapulco, a lucky guess. Mary Fane, who is the chairman for the popular dance-dance, is not sure if the Acapulco trip is one for two or if it is a couple of boys who helped her.

The dinner-dance will be the first big social since Jim McCabe became Whiting Township District Chairman and it will be an exciting one. On the list of speakers are State Attorney William Clark, Adlai Stevenson, III, and Paul Simon. More information can be had from Tom McNamee at 255-4636.

On other weekend activity the Village Theatre, Inc. will repeat their production of "The Night of January Thirteenth" at the Whiting High School Auditorium. Tickets can be reserved for Friday evening by calling the box office at CL 9-3200. Saturday's performance is sold out.

COLLECTION NOTICE
A man for collectors is the Book Store to be held by the Arlington Heights Women's Club at Randall's Mrs. Doris Walsh, chairman, has collected some books to fill 200 book. The sale is up to about 3,000 books.

Some of them came from the household effects of the parents of some of the members and they are very old," she said. "We've got a lot of old encyclopedias, medical books and National Geographic."

Mr. Walsh is especially grateful to two young people who helped her. One is a young man and the other is a young woman. They are both students at Prospect High and the other is a student at St. Victor. The two volunteered to do all the heavy moving and they've earned the gratitude of the committee.

The committee members are Loraine Lamberty, Nancy Davidson, Rhoda Hansen, Mary Wansford, Lorna Ernst and Betty Morla.

PLEASE GET WELL
Fifteen-year-old Kevin Keenan, an Arlington Heights sophomore, is spending the next few days in bed. Kevin doesn't like being in bed because he's in bed in Room 421 at Northwest Community Hospital. Kevin has the most painful surgery done on his ankles but he's through with that part and all he has to do now is rest and get better. He'd certainly like to hear from his friends and classmates.

AND OTHER TEENS
When the three McCarter brothers were in that accident on Monday morning, some of their young friends got together because they wanted to do something. "We just want over to McCarter's," said a spokesman. "We wanted to know if there was anything at all that we could do. We were talking among ourselves. There were about 12 of us. Some from Arlington Heights and some from Victor. "I don't know who started to talk about how the party at Victor had passed. Someone said, 'Why don't we say a prayer?' We were from all different religions so we decided to make it a silent prayer and what we did all evening, just for the one. 'What else can we say?' OH YES AND—"

And add to the busy social Saturday evening the board of the Illinois Country Club. The board will be given for the benefit of the Chicago Maternity Center and there are still tickets available if all of this party rotting has made you feel that you should go sometime. The one to call for tickets is Dorothy Flaherty at CL 3-4690. You'll have fun.

'Neat' Thieves Hit Canopy Beauty Shop

The intruders who entered the Canopy Beauty Shop, 38 S. Evergreen, were seen. Mrs. Ann McNeill, owner of the shop, told Arlington Heights Police Tuesday a mirror was broken when the shop was entered, but the pieces were placed in a wastebasket.

Mrs. McKenzie said the cash box was on the floor and some of the change was missing from a drawer, but nothing was taken. Police said the knob on the rear door of the business was twisted with a pipe wrench to gain entry.

Cost Soaring for Dist. 59's Little Acre Near Low School

Men we go again on Dist. 59's little acre. That's the land adjacent to Juliette Low School in Arlington Heights. It can be bought at public auction March 1 provided that someone is willing to pay at least $10,000 for it. There were about 12 of us. Some from Arlington Heights and some from Victor.

Park District Opposes Sale Of Dist. 59 Site

The Arlington Heights Park District has gone on record as opposing the proposed sale of an acre of property in Arlington Heights by the Board of Education of Elementary School Dist. 59.

The land is adjacent to Juliette Low School and the park site. ORIGINALLY The site was slated for the Northwest Co-operative Mental Health Clinic.

The land, approximately 1/2 acre, is to be used for residential development.

The Board of Park Commissioners was notified of the proposed partial section of the land, tentatively set for March 18.

CHARLES CRONIN, president of the park board said he would write a letter to the school district and tell them of his board's objection. "We will maintain the land if they will deed it to us at no cost," Cronin said.

Thornton Proposes Farm In Berkley Square Park

Arlington Heights may have an "agromuseum" near the farm, the barn and the animals to maintain the area as part of the park.

$2,000 for Park

Two builders have each donated $1,000 to the Arlington Heights Park District for development of a park site adjacent to the Juliette Low School.

HE TOLD the board of park commissioners last week that it might be possible to retain a farm - including barn and farmhouse - on a park site in the Berkley Square subdivision. The small farm, with a few cows, pigs and sheep, would be located approximately in the center of the proposed 13.5-acre park site.

Miller Builders and the Realty Co. of America, developers in the area served by the park, donated the money for development of the park-school site.

Full Text of Woods' Statement on Union

(Continued from Page 1) common aspiration while at the same time representing a healthy diversification in ideas and outlook. With increasing pressure, both from the federal and state governments, to usurp the local population of basic decision-making functions, it has become imperative that a strong and common front be presented if we are to protect our traditional and essential rights of local self-government.

"I BELIEVE that the preservation of those rights can best be promoted through a consolidated municipality, in this case, would be a strong, vigorous and inspiring example of enlightened local self-government. Certainly the economist, the intellectual and the political inflexible would not be so easily won over by such a community could not be ignored by either the state or the federal government.

"Most of you are familiar with the provisions of Division 3 of Article 7 of the Municipal Code of Illinois. This statute provides an orderly and effective method of consolidating two or more contiguous municipalities. The ultimate form of government is left open and could take the alternate form, which would guarantee local representation, or a commission form of government providing for a commission of five members either from borough or at large. Certainly the statute guarantees that they can be effective local representation in a consolidated municipality.

"The proposal will require extended study and careful consideration. Certainly it is fraught with numerous complex problems, not the least of which are the ties of sentiment.

"I am certain that none of us is prepared at this time to give unquestioning support to this concept, but I do believe that it is necessary for us to seriously consider this possibility if we are to make certain that the northwest corner of the state is not to be fragmented and eventually overwhelmed by the federal state, or other governmental or political forces.

"Therefore, I ask that this Conference appoint a special committee to make an immediate investigation of the possibilities of consolidation and to report back to the committee with its findings and recommendations at an early date."

Calderwood on WGN Police Documentary

L. W. Calderwood, chief of police in Arlington Heights, will participate in a special two-part WGN radio news documentary, "Are You Safe in the Suburbs?"

The program will be broadcast tonight and Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The documentary will use the results of a special survey of the 120 suburban Cook County police departments and the sheriff's office.

THE SURVEY reveals that 59 per cent of the departments report a rising crime rate in their communities. Most of the reporting departments blame population growth for the increase.

The work of the suburban departments, from the largest, Evanston, to one of the smallest, Burnham, will be examined by the broadcast.

Participating in the broadcast with Calderwood will be Sheriff Joseph Woods, Virgil Peterson, executive director of the Chicago Crime Commission; Police Chiefs Bert Clendenen of Evanston, Lester Flowers of Lincolnwood, Frank Abrams of River Forest, who also is president of the Cook County Council of Police Chiefs, John Burns of Posen, Lee Beasly of Worth, E. C. Lashwood of Burnham, and Capt. Joseph Barloga of Cicero.

"Are You Safe in the Suburbs?" is narrated by John Drury and written and produced by Alex Borkowski.

The 30-minute program will examine co-operation between the suburban police departments and participants will discuss the salaries for police, manpower shortage, crime syndicate activities in the suburbs and emergency situation.

Police Seek 'Mutt' And Jeff Two Some In Area Robberies

A "Mutt and Jeff" robbery team is being sought by area and Chicago police. The team may be responsible for Tuesday's armed robberies at Mount Prospect and Des Plaines.

Barrington Police said they found a complete set of special concrete drills in a Barrington National Tea Co. store Feb. 19.

St. Charles Police report that for the past seven weeks an armed robbery team committed every Wednesday night in their village.

CHICAGO POLICE said a "Mutt and Jeff" team has been hitting stores on the north side of the city. The pair took away sun glasses with heavy, round rims, carry "Bull" caliber weapons and to match the description of the team that completed the burglary Tuesday.

An Open Carry group was in Mount Prospect and a Convent Food Store in Des Plaines were robbed Tuesday night, each robberies taking by the pair at gunpoint.

Book Reviews

The Arlington Heights Historical Society will meet Friday at 8 p.m. in the Williamson Room of the Arlington Heights Savings and Loan Assn.

After a brief business session, Mrs. John Colton, reference librarian for the Arlington Heights Memorial Library, will present a review of several books written about Illinois history.

What is a car? A car can be part of a set of vehicles for travel or it can be part of a set of objects with wheels. Old magazines, shirt collars, scissors, and tape or paint the simple elements today's math game, invented for The Day by Richard Pugsley, head of the math department of Mount Prospect Holmes Junior High School.

Child Learns Set Theory In New Mathematics Game into a group of objects with which - like tiles, roller skate and wheelbarrows, can also be part of a group of vehicles for travel - like airplanes, trains and boats.

If colored pictures are used, then the car can be part of a group (or set) of things that are the same color - like a green car, green grass or a green tree.

The child cuts out pictures of all the similar objects he can find, then pastes them on a cardboard in the various shapes. His car picture becomes the center, and he draws lines enclosing the different groups.

He doesn't realize it, but he is actually learning to think of a "set" of things.

objects at part sets.

A box of soap could be part of a set of things you can buy at the grocery store, or things you can wash clothes with or "things you can buy for less than $1."

A girl's skirt can be part of a set of "what girls wear," or "objects made of wool," or "something a child can make by herself."

In life," said Pugsley, "things like pink, Pontiac, overlap. They are in the set of cars or of General Motors cars or pink cars or Pontiac cars. The same car can be a member of different sets or groups."

An easier way to play a game about sets for young children, has the first child naming an object like a pink Pontiac. A second child then has to name an object that has at least one characteristic in common with it. Like a blue Pontiac.

Dialogue

"I'm sure the American Bar Association hasn't heard the last of the complaints about its house of delegates' decision to restrict news of criminal trials."

"That's the big deal about that? Wasn't it just a 'house of delegates' that got into effect?"

"It's true, the regulation isn't in effect now, but if no one says anything about it, it just could end up as a very important rule that could affect all of us. Lawyers, judges and law enforcement officials would greatly restrict anything we could print or even find out about the arrest and pending trial."

"So he's wrong with limiting the information?"

Wren't that prevent unfair publicity about the defendant?"

"Not necessarily. Under the rule, the lawyers, judges and police wouldn't be permitted to tell us much more than the name, address, age and charge made against the defendant."

"Sounds like the rules of war, where they only give and get the name, rank and serial number of a prisoner."

"Yes, except that in an official war, the prisoner at least has the benefit of the International Red Cross if someone thinks he's being treated improperly."

"I wish you could treat him improperly."

"I'm getting up that. But as I was saying, the press wouldn't be restricted to printing what we found out about the defendant, as long as the lawyers, judges and police don't give out the information."

"Of course, as long as the news isn't prejudicial."

"Where could you possibly obtain the information then?"

"I've always the public library. But if the defendant says he's guilty, we're probably about him from his high school record. If he's a dropout, that is."

"What about admitting the prisoner, like you mentioned, the point is, if he was being mistreated, no one would be allowed to tell you. You imagine the following conversation at a police station."

"Hello, I hear you have George Hamilton being put up here."

"Yes, we have."

"Can he ever be arrested before?"

"No, he hasn't."

"That's for you to find out."

"Will he get out on bail?"

"I'm not allowed to say."

"What's the charge?"

"We don't know yet. He was arrested in the street story, claiming another guy got him in some trouble. But the Association says that's unfair."

Within two weeks the important Wheeling Township Republican Organization is to meet in endorsement of GOP candidates for state offices in 1968. The endorsements or lack of them is expected March 5.

The Wheeling Township GOP leaders, including the precinct captains, and everyone else in the area have been accorded an opportunity not yet afforded any other township in Illinois by Republicans seeking state office candidates in the June 11 primary. Wheeling Township Republicans have met, heard and voted with the leading GOP candidates for state offices. Under the leadership of Committee Chairman Eugene Schlichman of Arlington Heights, Wheeling Township Republicans more than a year ago established what is perhaps the most unique procedure for endorsements to be found in the state.

The procedure broadens the base so greatly that the Wheeling Township government takes on the nature of a miniature primary. Endorsement involves three vital steps all provided over to the committee.

The first step is to hold candidate nights and invite every there is no apparent opposition. Robert A. Dwyer, Chicago insurance man, is certain to get the endorsement for lieutenant governor.

The second step is to place the matter of endorsement before the township's GOP executive committee. The committee will develop its recommendations for endorsement.

Finally, these recommendations will be presented to the approximately 75 Wheeling GOP precinct captains. They are free to accept a executive committee recommendation, to withhold endorsement completely for any given office or to give endorsement to an individual other than the person proposed by the executive group.

The only limitation on the precinct captains is that they must record a two-thirds vote in order for there to be an endorsement.

William E. Harris of Pontiac. This will be a difficult decision on several counts.

Even a small presentation, Clark's makes it clear that he knows the complex operations of the office and will be able to manage and improve the service to the state while reducing the costs.

HERE IS AN example: Charge reports of 4,000 cars for which gasoline is being purchased at a total for 80 percent of the use. He would work the system under which 90 percent of the gas would be bought in bulk by the state at a savings of 14 cents.

Sen. Harris also is informed about the operation of the state auditor's office. He is one of the outstanding campaign team men in the party.

He comes from downstate, hence would help shore up a deficiency that looms ahead for the GOP in the fall showdown with the Democrats.

Endorsement of public candidates might be "work right now."

11 primary draw the evening live applause.

He Might Not Fit in Today

George Washington, born 236 years ago, was of such good character it fostered a new respect for the individual.

Debutants aware of the story of the new respect for the individual, it is hard to believe a like tale about any contemporary public figure could survive of this century.

Washington said it in his Farewell Address: "I hold the maxim no less applicable to public than to private life, that honesty is always the best policy."

Involvement to Washington meant many personal sacrifices. As a rich man, he could have lived in ease and high comfort. Instead, he chose to suffer countless hardships. Betrayed, abused, he was the object of jealousy and violent criticism.

Thomas Paine, an eminent American patriot, turned against his first president and called him "treacherous in private friendship and in hypocrisy in public life."

Washington was stung by slashing attacks in the press of the day and complained to Thomas Jefferson of "such exaggerated and indecent terms as could scarcely be applied to a man, a notorious defaulter, or even a common pickpocket."

Washington did not believe in partisan with a purpose. To him, patriotism was a purpose and no sacred was too great a burden to be fulfilled.

Our forefathers were fortunate, indeed, to have a leader of Washington's stature in their time of trial. But we are not lucky too, if we are content to look back from time to time and use the shining example to light the forward path.

4 Students to Join Orchestra

On France Tour

Four Arlington High School students will be members of the All State Orchestra, Chorus and Band participating in the International Music Educators Conference in Vienna, Austria, July 1-11.

They are Vicki Auer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Auer, 415 W. Windsor Dr., Bensenville; Mary Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd White, 515 Pitts, Pittsfield; Bill Hannon, 1404 N. 4th St., Arlington Heights; and Mr. A. Fiedler, 1316 N. Yale, and Ken Newcomb, 400 N. 4th St., Arlington Heights.

Also participating in the festival are Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Norris, 723 S. Ridge, and Dave Palmieri, 400 S. Ridge, and Frank Palmieri, 400 S. Ridge.

To Set The Record Straight

The officers and board members of the Ridge Park Community Area would like to set the record straight.

The neighborhood association, reactivated in the face of several misstatements, passed out a handbill to attract people to an open meeting.

That meeting and handbill covered night racing at Arlington, a meeting of residential lot use as a use of lot, widths of streets that are to be paved and the use of the lot.

The terminology was deliberately picked to get the best of the details. The meeting was held in the middle of the night and the neighbors they still are.

We appreciate the depth

Prepare, Serve and Enjoy Polynesian Ribs at Home

There's no need to hunt for a fine restaurant to enjoy Polynesian appetites. These popular ribs are easy to prepare and serve at home.

It's hard to believe such a delicate flavor can be achieved with such simple preparation. The ribs are baked until over-tender.

THE RESULT -- beautifully browned, flavorful ribs that will be eaten in no time at all! The polynesian and spicy special flavor the pork resulting in a kind of flavor that is truly a taste treat.

A mix of rice, either hot or cold, served with the ribs adds an interesting Oriental touch to your meal. To carry out the Polynesian theme, try decorating the table with real or artificial Vande orchids or paper lilies and leaves.

INGREDIENTS:
1 cap (bone) crushed pineapple, undrained
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cap wine or cider vinegar
1 tablespoon shredded orange rind
1 whole tobacco sauce
Cut ribs into serving size pieces, 3 to 4 ribs wide. Arrange in shallow roasting pan. Cover with foil; crisp lightly to edge of pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 1 hour.

POLYNESIAN RIBS
4 pounds pork spareribs
1 cap brown sugar, packed
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1/2 cap mayonnaise
1 cap (bone) crushed pineapple, undrained
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cap wine or cider vinegar
1 tablespoon shredded orange rind
1 whole tobacco sauce

Cut ribs into serving size pieces, 3 to 4 ribs wide. Arrange in shallow roasting pan. Cover with foil; crisp lightly to edge of pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 1 hour. Mix brown sugar, cornstarch, celery salt and ginger. Stir in remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly. Drain drippings from baking pan. Brush ribs generously with sauce, and pour remaining sauce over them. Cover pan with foil and crisp to edge of pan. Bake 30 minutes. Remove foil and bake until tender and brown. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Traveling Art Museum

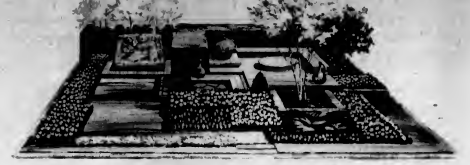

The first traveling art museum in the nation, the Illinois Art Mobile, will exhibit original art from Egyptian to contemporary times at the Chicago World Flower & Garden Show, March 23-31 at the International Amphitheatre.

The 35-foot long vehicle was dedicated in Springfield last summer and is designed as a teaching museum and in-service center for teachers.

The works on exhibit are on loan from five major galleries in the country including the Art Institute and Field Museum in Chicago; the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C.; the Knerr Art Museum of the University of Illinois and the Olin Foundation.

Fully equipped with the latest audio device to provide programmed learning, the unit is also air conditioned, burglar proof and fire proof.

It was planned and developed by William Brainerd, supervisor of art education at the Office of Public Instruction, and designed by Frank Carrell, special planning consultant of Chicago.

Modulus garden created by Harold O. Kloppe, landscape architect of Rolling Meadows, will be on display at the 1968

Chicago World Flower & Garden Show, March 23-31 at the International Amphitheatre.

Modular Garden at Flower Show

The 1968 Chicago World Flower & Garden Show, March 23-31, at the International Amphitheatre, will have a special modular garden created by Harold O. Kloppe, landscape architect of Rolling Meadows, for the Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Chicago.

Structures and numerous diversely-colored plant materials will be used through the garden to produce a multi-level effect.

The color for the garden will be provided by arrangements of pink and yellow tulips; blue yellow and white primroses; yellow jonquills and blue hyacinths.

Various trees and levels will be created by the skillful use of junipers, groundcovers, and trees.

A SCULPTURED fountain will serve as a subliminal mood piece. Also incorporated in the modular scheme will be a wood deck, steps and paths.

The Flower Show this year will have as its theme the bicentennial anniversary observance of the State of Illinois. The International Amphitheatre is at 43rd and Halsted Sts., adjoining the famous Stock Yards Inn. It can be reached easily from all cityways leading into the Dan Ryan Expressway.

There is room for 4,000 cars in protected parking facilities at the Amphitheatre.

Wheeling Wins 8 of 10 Events at Speech Contest

Wheeling High School won 8 of 10 events at the Illinois High School Assn. district speech tournament at Waukegan last Saturday.

According to Richard Pansgo, head coach for the Wheeling speech team, this was the first win for High School District 214. The seven Wheeling contestants won first or second place in competition with 11 other schools.

Elk Grove GOP Board Seats New Members

An outstanding year was predicted for the Elk Grove Township Republican organization at a Committee meeting. Carl R. Hansen greeted newly-elected board members at their first meeting.

Julie Weismann Receives Wilson Commendation

Julie Weismann, a senior at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Weismann, 501 N. Emerson, Mount Prospect, has been awarded an honorable mention in the 1968-69 Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation Competition.

The Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation designated 1,124 college seniors at 309 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada as among the best future college teacher prospects on the continent.

Graduate school dates are receiving a list of the designees' names with the commendation that all are "worthy of financial support in graduate school."

French Fries, Ice Cream Really French Imports

Every time you chomp down on a tasty French fry, you owe a debt of thanks to Thomas Jefferson, according to Elmer Rykema, operator of McDonald's at 100 W. Bond Rd. in Mount Prospect.

"If it wasn't for Jefferson, French fries would probably still be in the category of an exotic French delicacy like snails or souffles," Rykema commented.

Instead, they're such an American tradition that they are standard accompaniments to such U. S. favorites as hamburger, and it comes as a shock to most Americans to realize that French fries really did originate in France.

MCDONALD'S, for instance, with its nearly 1,000 units across the country is the nation's biggest seller of hamburgers, and seven out of 10 Americans went French fries with their hamburgers.

"Jefferson, who along with all his other accomplishments was no slouch in the gourmet department, discovered French fries in France and brought the idea home to Monticello," Rykema added.

"All men being created equal, he figured, they ought to have a crack at the gourmet delication of other countries, and the unique Parisian way of serving spuds fell into that category. So he started dicing potatoes and deep-frying them, and Jefferson has been all over since."

"WHERE, JEAN was it, he brought home the recipe for another French delicacy—ice cream—and he became the first American to serve that, too."

"The basic idea of French fries hasn't changed since Jef-

Wheeling, second place in 10 events at the Illinois High School Assn. district speech tournament at Waukegan last Saturday.

According to Richard Pansgo, head coach for the Wheeling speech team, this was the first win for High School District 214. The seven Wheeling contestants won first or second place in competition with 11 other schools.

The winners were: Karen Kille, 1029 Anthony Dr., Wheeling, first place in prose reading and second place in oratorical declamation; Mill Chem, 504 Hennick Lake, Mount Prospect, first place in after dinner speaking; Melodie Peterson, 2705 Forest View Dr., Northbrook, first place in verse reading; Rhonda Hansen, 762 S. Wayne, University in Normal.

Monday night. Welcomed as new board members this year were: Joseph P. Jennings of Elk Grove Village, vice president; Genevieve Erskine of Des Plaines, secretary; David F. Heitzel of Des Plaines, treasurer; Charles Becker of Mount Prospect, president of Republicans Women's; Theodore J. Pandak of Mount Prospect, campaign activist; Bruce Condon of Mount Prospect, membership; and Jack Schneider of Des Plaines, publicity.

"ALTHOUGH ELK GROVE is not the largest township in population or Republican primary vote, the new board faces the challenge of maintaining the record of previous boards which have made Elk Grove Township Republican activity the best in Illinois," said Hansen.

Hansen pointed out that the Elk Grove Township Republicans had reached a new high of 142 members in 1971. In 1967, he also noted that in 1966, Elk Grove Township Republican precincts were second in the entire state.

"On any practical basis," Hansen said, "Elk Grove Township Republican precincts have to be rated superior."

Let Vacuum Do Work

If all the advice about vacuum cleaning in the home could be packaged into two messages by the companies that produce today's biggest helper for the busy housewife, those admonitions would be "Hasten slowly" and "Get the proper type vacuum cleaner for the job."

If you've ever observed the average housewife hurry through her vacuum-cleaning chores, you'll see why manufacturers urge that the operator select the motor to do the work, instead of scurrying from room to room in a race against time. The best results are obtained when the housewife is the vacuum "pilot," moving and controlling the device at a moderate pace.

IT'S SURPRISING also to find how few owners of a vacuum cleaner know that there are two basic and distinct types, each of which has a particular job that it can do best.

Rugs, carpets, and similar floor coverings are cleaned best by the upright type, basically just a brush driven by a motor, with a stick of a handle for guidance and the attached dirt bag. Variations include brush-and-suck, beaters, the choice-of-switch on the handle or at floor level, retractable cords, lighting devices, and adjusters for carpet pile height.

The direct suction cleaner style, labeled "canister" or "tank" type, works best on floors with a hard surface and on items above floor level, such as shelves, cabinets, and so on. Accessories include in the "canister" kit usually are a brush for bare floors, furniture brushes, soft dusting and crevice tools, even a rug nozzle.

EACH TYPE has a special job to do. For below the surface cleaning of wall-to-wall carpeting, you'll depend on the upright cleaner. For bare floors, turn to the cylindrical or pot-shaped tank type.

Does this mean you must own two cleaners?

Well, it does when the problems in your home needs both. And it cuts down on the extra labor needed, since it takes about 10 times as much operator power to get a rug clean if you're using the straight suction device as it does when pushing the upright cleaner.

If you're a family committed to owning one cleaner, survey your home cleaning needs carefully before deciding on the weapons of your choice in the never-ending war against dirt.

Mark Powell Joins Association Staff

Mark Powell, formerly with a Palestine real estate firm, has joined the mortgage lending division of Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association. Powell assumed his new duties Monday, Feb. 12.

Powell brings ten years experience in the local real estate market to Arlington Heights Federal. Prior to this time he was with Falkanger Real Estate. Before his career in real estate, Powell was vice president of a Minnesota based optical firm. He was associated with Baughn and Lomb Optical Co. of Rochester, New York before coming to the midwest.

He and his wife, Christine, live on S. Cedar in Palestine. They have two sons, James and Mark. The Powell's are members of the First Methodist Church of Palestine.

FALL-PROOFING IN WINTER

How can you fall-proof your property in winter?

Most important, remove ice and snow. As the temperature goes down, the number of falls goes up. There are a number of ways to remove ice and snow. The simplest and most common methods are shoveling, snowblowers, and snowplows and chemicals.

A bag of salt helps do away with ice-slickery sidewalks. It also cuts down on shoveling efforts. Here's how to use it: begin as soon as the snowflakes start to fall. Sprinkle a handful of salt per sidewalk square. Wait until the salt takes effect. The snow will become noncompacted. Then get busy with the shovel. Your shovel will glide under the snow, easily scraping it up.

When the walk is clear, sprinkle more salt. This prevents the formation of an ice glaze.

Still Room For Mansions

The age of the stately mansion is far from dead. A recent article in Professional Builder Magazine reports that the market for the "honest-to-luxury home" is thriving in all parts of the country, and is, in fact, probably the most neglected (by builders) market in the country.

Today's mansions are not the heaps of gray stone that tried to look like European castles and villas as they did fifty years ago. Rather they are more likely to be charming, friendly, comfortable homes, designed for ease of living for the entire family, and for gracious entertainment. Come too are the forbidding walls and gates of yesteryear. Today's luxury homes put a premium on privacy, but not on isolation. And gone too are the facilities and quarters for retinues of servants. In their place the mansion is likely to have a superbly equipped kitchen, with the finest in cabinetry and appliances, and to be built to be virtually maintenance-free.

WHAT CONSTITUTES a mansion today? The best measurement isn't the number of rooms or square footage or any other physical measure. It is overall cost. Most builders set the minimum price of a mansion at $100,000. Plus the cost of the land, usually upwards of $25,000.

What does a homeowner get for that kind of money? It's his choice. Homes in this price bracket are highly customized, and the mansion reflects the tastes - and whims - of the buyer. Some are colonial, some traditional, some modern, some ultra-modern. Some homes feature outstanding craftsmanship (such as spiraling staircases costing $8,000 or more), some have lavish bathrooms (with marble tubs, built-in saunas, and complete gyms), some spectacular structural features (one Texas builder predicts his mansions "may be standing when Marina City crumbles"), and some such niceties as indoor putting greens.

So customized are these homes that one New Jersey builder says that he interviews prospective home buyers as though he were a doctor. "I want to know the family composition, age, activities, the type of architecture they favor, what sort of furnishings they now have and will retain." And quite appropriately, according to an Indianapolis builder, doctors are among the most prevalent clients for mansion class homes, followed by other professional men, bankers, insurance brokers, car dealers, and building contractors. Whoever the clients, they have one thing in common, however: no problem arranging the financing or the down payment on their $100,000 plus homes!

$20 Million Complex

Ten business and civic leaders participated in the ground breaking ceremonies for the first phase of Willow Creek, a $20 million apartment and commercial development to be built by the Winston-Mus Corp. on the northeast corner of Rohlfing Rd. and Northwest Hwy. in Palatine.

Willow Creek will have two 10-story office buildings, seven 6-story apartment buildings each with more than 100 units; 100,000 square feet of shopping area, theatre, movie and service station. It will be built on a 90-acre site with 30 acres devoted to a public park and a 10-acre lake.

The first phase of the project will consist of an office building, a 6-story, 100 unit apartment building, swimming pool and a recreational center.

Financing for the first phase has been approved by The Great Lakes Mortgage Corp. in the amount of $4,500,000. Architects for the development will be Solomon & Cordwell and A. Epstein & Sons.

John R. Hughes, president of the Suburban National Bank of Palatine, was also present for the ground breaking. The bank has leased 5,000 square feet on the ground level of the ten-story office building and will offer drive-in windows at one of its many customer services.

DONALD G. HEIDORN, sales manager of Ames & Bume, Realtors and a member of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, has received his graduate, Realtors Institute (G.R.I.) designation from the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards in Springfield. Heidorn has successfully completed the three stage study course designed to increase the professional competence of members of the real estate profession. This course is a week-long course held in Peoria, in December of every year. Heidorn was one of the 90 graduates making up the second graduating class of the Institute. The certificate will be presented Oct. 16, 1968, at the State Convention of the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards.

PATRICK J. CLEARY recently joined the real estate staff of Falkanger Real Estate in Palatine. Holding the rank of sergeant in the U.S.M.C. Pat received his honorable discharge in 1965, after which he joined a Pharmaceutical firm in sales and administrative work. Pat and his wife Rose Marie live at 1834 Bourne Lane, Schaumburg and have four children. Pat attending Northern Illinois University, Kathleen a sophomore at Conant High, and Colleen and Eric attending junior high and grade school respectively. Pat and his family are parishioners of St. Marcelene's parish in Schaumburg.

GROOMING ROOM

The counter-lavatory in the modern bath provides a lot more grooming "room" than the old-fashioned wash basin. The counter offers adequate set-down space for "his" and "her" grooming aids and, surfaced with ceramic tile, will not be damaged by any spillage of them.

First Public Hint Dropped

Last Term for Mayor Woods?

Police Question Youths in Sale Of Marijuana

A 16-year-old Arlington Heights boy and his companions are being questioned by Arlington Heights Police detectives in connection with the purchase of marijuana.

Thursday night the youth was brought to the Arlington Heights Police station by his father. The parent told police he found a small bag with "weed" mixture in the boy's room.

The youth first told police he found the bag in Palatine and Buffalo Grove Rds. two weeks ago and kept it.

The father also told police he found two sets of keys in the boy's room.

POLICE identified one set of keys that belonged to an auto stolen Feb. 15 from George Pratt of 1729 Roskill. The auto was shown after the driver was charged by Buffalo Grove Police. The car and the keys have been returned to Pratt.

The youth admitted to police he stole Pratt's car and said the other set of keys belonged to a car he planned to steal.

The boy told detectives he purchased the marijuana from a friend of his brother for $25.

Police said they confiscated approximately four ounces of 15 per cent pure marijuana from the youth.

By Charles Mountaine

John G. Woods has publicly hinted for the first time that he will retire as president of Arlington Heights in 1969 at the end of this second term.

He said at the last meeting of the village board of trustees that John Pritz, who was appointed to the plan commission, is key legislator to the village.

Pritz, a lawyer, is Woods' assistant at Universal Oil Products, a Du Pont firm with international operations. While it is privately conceded and accepted that Woods will retire in order to devote his time to his family and to his work, Woods has declined to make a public statement on the subject.

But the president's witty move the village's major affairs to conclusion and is preparing a man who presumably would make a good choice for the Village Council. Trustee John J. Wain Jr.

A major pressure on Woods to abandon active participation in local politics is his job as vice president of the UOP.

THAT COMPANY recently agreed on merger terms with Cabot & Beld of Evanston and the work load on Woods apparently has increased considerably.

His wish to spend more time with his family seems to be the other major reason for his move.

Woods himself already carried the air of a man with plans for the future.

Like other trustees, he has had an excellent attendance record since April 1967, showing up on regular special and committee meetings.

A DAY RATING of the trustee attendance at the end of January indicated that the board as a body has a record of better than 80 per cent attendance at all meetings including a great number of special ones.

Attendance records appear to be one of the criteria used by the Village Council Party in its evaluation of trustee performance.

Wald has gone a step further. In many important, crowd-attracting meetings, such as those on the Arlington Park Race Track and the fair housing ordinance, he prepared and read written statements on his position.

His position always is very close to that of Woods, middle of the road and representative of the majority opinion of the board.

Since 1961, when Woods was elected president, Arlington Heights has changed considerably.

Population has almost doubled and is expected to reach the 100,000 mark by 1980.

The board of trustees only recently became immediately aware of the possibilities of flood damage in the village with recreation aid, primarily thanks to Trustee George Busch, who may supply a novel and bold approach to

Superintendent Says Dist. 214 Likely to Adopt Salary Plan

BY MAXINE TYMA
A salary schedule that includes an $800 increase in base pay for teachers in High School District 214 is "most likely to be adopted" at the Monday night meeting of the Board of Education.

At a superintendent's meeting, Mayor Daniel Congreve said that the proposal would not provide more efficient services and that villages which would support the plan are those with small real estate taxes.

The superintendent's meeting, which was held at the Board of Education, was the first of its kind since the merger of the two districts.

The board members met at a committee of the whole in closed session for more than two hours to discuss the proposal.

The board members discussed all aspects of the proposal and are planning to make a decision by the end of the month.

The board of education will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Harold L. Slesinger

Anticipating that the board will approve the proposal, he said.

He said that board members did not suggest any major changes and the proposal submitted to the board of education on Feb. 12 will be the one to be voted upon.

school. When the budget was prepared this summer, the board of education calculated a base pay of $8,300.

THE PROPOSED salary schedule for 1968-69 has been adopted by the committee of the board members and members of the salary committee at the Dist. 214 Teachers' Assn. After the anticipated board of education approval, the proposal will be voted on by members of the teachers' assn.

SCHOOLS in the district are Arlington, Prospect, Forest View, Wheeling, El Greco and Glenview.

A main point of the salary schedule includes the adoption of a 36-hour base salary schedule with a teacher's degree and no teaching experience and a base of $5,750 for a teacher with a master's degree and no experience.

The base salary for teachers this year is $5,000. Last spring the Teachers' Assn. originally petitioned the board of education for a $7,000 base

INCREASE in salary at the masters degree plus 90 hours credit for a doctoral degree level also are included in the proposal.

The original proposal included a $1,000 increase in salary at the masters degree plus 90 hours credit for a doctoral degree level also are included in the proposal.

The committee also recommended that the present $500 professional certificate stipend be continued and that the last June days for teachers be increased.

The final proposal comes after months of meetings between board members and Teachers Assn. members on the special committee to negotiate the agreement.

Arlington Wins Battle in County Zoning Suit War

By Charles Mountaine

Arlington Heights won a preliminary victory before the Cook County Circuit Court Tuesday, asserting its right to challenge the zoning of property in unincorporated areas of the county.

The court ruled that Cook County and Kenosha Builders must amend a suit by the village challenging the zoning of property for apartments in nearby unincorporated land. The county Zoning Board of Appeals and the county Board of Commissioners approved Kenosha's request to zone about 40 acres of land, south of Senger Rd. and across from Forest View High School, for apartments.

of its future annexation to the village, Arlington Heights objected "arbitrarily," according to Trustee Frank Palmer, a lawyer.

Palmer also said that the village did not like the particular type of zoning in nearby county areas would allow more apartments on a piece of land than permitted under village ordinances.

At suit against the county and Kenosha was filed. Then the two defendants filed a motion to dismiss the case, but the court ruled against it.

Jack Siegel, village attorney, said that the county and Kenosha must answer the village's challenge within 30 days.

Landscaping architects and workers hurried to get the finishing touches on their garden exhibits before the flower and garden show opened this morning at Roundshore.

BY DEBBIE BENNETT
Spring has arrived at the Roundshore Shopping Center as the Roundshore Merchants Association, in cooperation with local landscapers, nurseries, and garden clubs, has begun to show its features.

The show began at 10 a.m. featuring exhibits of major changes and the proposal submitted to the board of education on Feb. 12 will be the one to be voted upon.

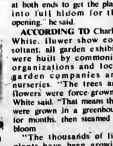

The board of education will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Harold L. Slesinger

Since last October everything was brought in by truck and the soil and the garden was cut the day after Christmas. The garden show was warm enough to cut soil.

According to Charles White, flower show co-sponsor, all garden exhibits were built by commercial organizations and local garden companies and nurseries. "The trees and flowers were force grown."

That means they were grown in a greenhouse or under artificial light.

But Hermann of the Greenhouse Corporation presents his "Garden Garden" for the opening of the Roundshore flower and garden show.

"Where in the world am I?" Bob Gorbis, 18, tries to figure out what familiar name he'd find if he starts at the center of Chicago and follows Trip Planning directions for today's math game, originated by Mrs. Jerry Gurr, Miner Junior High school math teacher. Bob's sister, Mary Lynn, 2, adds a few "helpful" suggestions and has her own ideas of what to do with that crayon!

Road Map, Crayon Tools For Day's 3d Math Game

BY JAN BONE

Third Is Series
An Illinois road map and a dark-colored crayon or Magic Marker are all you need to play today's math game. It was originated for The Day by Mrs. Jerry Gurr, math teacher at Miner Junior High School in Arlington Heights. Start at a point on Lake Michigan, plus about at the center of Chicago. Go 20 miles west, then 30 miles north, then 70 miles west, then 10 miles north. Keep going — 40 miles and 60 west. Where are you? What's familiar about the name of the closest town?

Another good map game is to find the cities or towns that are exactly 100 miles from Arlington Heights.

You also look for all the towns within 200 miles of Chicago that are located where two rivers meet. Do they have more or fewer people than other nearby towns?

An accident last week is participating in a math game called "The Day," developed here by the Trifling and Development Center.

Stevenson, Clark to Speak At Dem Candidates' Night

State and Cook County Democratic party leaders will be in Arlington Heights last night at the annual dinner-dance of the Washington Township Regular Democratic Organization.

The event will be held in the Ball Room at the Arlington Park Clubhouse. Attending will be State Treasurer Adlai Stevenson III, Attorney General William O. Clark and Sen. Paul Simon. All are being considered for the offices of governor, U. S. senator and other state offices.

Mr. Eugene Chapman of Arlington Heights, a candidate for re-election as representative from the 3rd dist. and David Bayler of Evanston, Democratic candidate for congressman from the 13th Congressional District, will attend the dinner.

Judge George Kane, Kane & Kane, Attorneys at Law, 1100 Madison Ave., will be the guest speaker. He will speak on "The Future of the Law." The dinner will be held at 7 p.m. and will be followed by the program. Waiting list for the dinner is long. Tickets are $5.00. Reservations should be made by March 10. Tickets will be available at the door for a party in December. Clark was a speaker at the 1967 Democratic Convention. Simon has not been in Wheeling Township for several years.

The Arlington Heights Boys Baseball League will hold the first of two registration sessions Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Recreation Park.

All boys living in Arlington Heights or within the Arlington Heights Park District are eligible if they will be at least eight years old by July 31 and will not be 19 before Aug. 1.

A traveling league for boys

17 and 18 will be part of the program for the first time this year.

Registration fees will be $8 for the first boy and $5 for each additional boy from one family for boys eight through 16. Registration for the traveling league will cost $15. All boys will have to buy five Peoria Day tickets.

A second registration will be held Mar. 2, and league administrator Men Taylor has predicted 1850 boys will sign up to play in the program.

The league's 1968 officers include Bernie Dabbert, president; Marty Fink, vice president; Ken May, secretary; and Norm Herlihy, treasurer. Ken Cook is equipment manager; Lance Lehrer is field development head; Ed Schwartz, league director; Clyde Gardner, manager; and Jerry Jackson, public relations officer.

Dick Dabbert is statistician, and J. George Owen, chief umpire. The league members are George Sharpe, Senior League; Bob Wilson, Varsity League; Bob Wilson, Major League; David Leachman, Junior League; Archie Loebl, Junior League.

Maureen Loebl and Jim Milroy are assistants to the president.

The league is still seeking men to work in the program.

6-8s Tip 6-2s

For Miner Title

Miner Junior High School's 6-8 girls shot past the 6-2 boys to win the Chicago Heights Invitational Prep League basketball game with a 50-20 record if they can win the game.

St. Victor, now 5-7 in league play, beat Marion 77-61 and St. Joseph 70-61 in the first round of games.

Falcone Bar Cards' Way In Last Dual

The Mid-Southern League gymnastics dual meet season was held at the University of Illinois last weekend, with Forest View the last obstacle in the way of an undefeated team.

The Falcons are 4-2 in league meets — with losses to Prospect and Wheeling, but will probably meet to turn the Cardinals' season upside down tonight to beat the leaders.

Wheeling is at Prospect Saturday afternoon in a meet that will decide second place — in the event of a Forest View upset — who win the title.

St. Victor and Wheeling are both 5-1, with the Cardinals.

St. Victor Ends CPL Season

St. Victor's basketball team and their regular season this weekend, traveling to Chicago Heights tonight and hosting St. Joseph.

The Lions will have a chance to close at the top of the league.

St. Victor, now 5-7 in league play, beat Marion 77-61 and St. Joseph 70-61 in the first round of games.

Tom Penny, in street clothes, is one of the reasons E. G. Grove's loss of its opening meet of the track season on Feb. 16-18, Thursday was less than definitive. Penny, the top runner on the Grove basketball team, is one of the E. G. Grove track team's current competitors at other meets. Penny has twice won the E. G. Grove track meet, but took a third in the high jump against the Cougars.
